[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

DATES TO JUNE 8.

Congressional.

WASHINGTON, June 8.—In the Senate Corbett introduced a bill to authorize the establishment of customs ports of delivery on the Pacific coast of the United States. Referred to the Committee on Commerce.

The bill to admit North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Louisiana and Florida, was taken up, the question being on the amendment of Wilson to include Alabama. An extended debate followed.

Morton gave notice that when in order he will move to insert additional provisions; first, making it the duty of officers commanding in districts, to allow all officers elected under the constitution and not disqualified, to be installed within 120 days after their election, and to protect them in the discharge of their duties; said officers to be deemed provisional only, and subject to the United States authorities until the provisions of this act shall be complied with. Second, providing that in case any person is elected to office who would be disqualified under the constitution when adopted, the person receiving the highest number of votes shall be entitled to discharge the duties until a new election is held under the provisions of the constitution of the State.

During the discussion, the signing of the bill to admit Arkansas was announced by the chair. It goes to the President. Adjourned.

In the House, a large number of bills and resolutions were introduced, after which, the resolution offered last Monday by Holman, and which Stevens, of Pennsylvania, then moved to table, was taken up. It reads as follows:

Resolved, That in the judgment of the House, the bonds and other securities issued by the United States and which are exempt by law from State and municipal taxation, ought to be taxed for national purposes in an amount substantially equal to the average tax imposed on the several States for local purposes in such manner as may substantially equalize taxation, the tax to be deducted from the coupons as they become due, and that the committee on Ways and Means be instructed to report a bill for the purposes above specified.

Steven's motion was lost. Ayes, 10; noes, 100.

Blaine moved to refer the resolution to the committee of Ways and Means, which was carried. Ayes, 88; noes, 34.

The conference report on the Arkansas bill was taken, and the House refused to table it by 37 to 102, and it was adopted without division.

Shellabarger presented a resolution that Wooley be ordered to the bar of the House and allowed to purge himself of contempt. Agreed to.

Wooley appeared at the bar and stated his willingness to go before the Managers and answer questions propounded.

The Tax bill was then taken up in Committee of the Whole, after disposal of which as far as the seventy-fifth section, the Committee rose and the House adjourned.

Rhode Island Senator.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., June 8.—The General Assembly meets to-morrow at Newport, and will elect a United States Senator. At the Legislative caucus this evening, Senator Sprague was nominated for re-election without opposition.

Rebel Contracts Void.

RICHMOND, June 8.—Chief Justice Chase, in a case to day charged the jury that all bonds, drafts, etc., drawn during the rebellion in the rebel States are illegal and cannot be recovered at law.

Statement of the Public Debt.

WASHINGTON, June 8.—The following is the public debt statement: Debt bearing coin interest, $2,020,827,841 08; debt bearing currency interest, $203,117,560; matured debt, not presented for payment, $6,834 203 64; debt bearing no interest, $408,873,989 94. Total $2,643,753,566 38. Coin in Treasury, $90,228,559 31; currency in Treasury, $43,279,120 33. Debt less cash in Treasury, $2,510,245,888 67. The gold bearing debt has increased during May, $574.495 50; the seven-thirties were reduced $680,080 50; compound interest notes reduced $197,017 10; the debt bearing gold and currency interest and the matured debt not presented for payment was increased $3,120,079, of which $192,000 consists of bonds issued to the Pacific Railroad. Coin increased in currency, $16,681,093 64; decreased in currency, $11,104,983 57. The entire debt was increased $9,717,059 18, owing chiefly to the heavy payments of interest.

Resignation of Commissioner Rollins.

WASHINGTON, June 8.—The Commissioner of Internal Revenue, Rollins, has written a letter to the Secretary of the Treasury, resigning his position, the same to take effect on the confirmation of his successor.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

LONDON, June 8.—Chief Justice Cockburn says that the charge delivered by Judge Blackburn to the Grand Jury which recently refused to bring in a bill of indictment against Governor Eyre of Jamaica, is contrary to the opinion of the majority of the Court of the Queen's Bench.

PARIS, June 8.—The Etendard in an article on the action of the Austrian House of Deputies, concerning the National debt, advises the Reichsrath not to adopt the proposed tax on coupons.

OUR SAN FRANCISCO DISPATCH.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 9.—The Board of Supervisors have investigated the charges preferred against City Assessor Ben. Harris, and their report completely exonerates the gentleman and reflects much credit upon his management of the Assessor's office.

The San Francisco Insurance Company yesterday voted to disincorporate. Their reasons for this are that they cannot make a reasonable profit upon their capital at the present low rates of insurance. The assets are expected to divide up about 120 per cent.

Nelson Young, 60 years of age, dropped dead last evening in front of his house, on Larkin street. Death was caused by heart disease.

The physicians say that John Palmer, who was shot about a week since by Brookbanks, cannot possibly recover.

A dispatch from New York announces the sudden death in that city, on Saturday, of Mr. Wm. Tangerman, for many years a resident of San Francisco, where he was formerly one of the heaviest wholesale tobacco and cigar dealers.

Last Thursday a quarrel ensued between several small boys in this city, and one of them, John Dunn, aged eight years, was struck behind the ear with a stone thrown by another boy, and died on Sunday from the effects of the injury.

The steamer Henry Chauncey sailed from New York to-day for Aspinwall, with 900 passengers and 925 tons of freight. J. Ross Browne, Minister to China, is among her passengers.

Stock Market.

The mining share market this morning was generally a little off, the most notable decline being in Yellow Jacket.

Monetary.

Legal tenders 72@72½. This advance is purely speculative and is not warranted by the demand.

New York quotations—Gold, 139½.
Wheat—Dull and nominal.
Flour—Quiet but steady.
Liverpool wheat quotations unchanged.

Shipping.

Arrived—Bark Speedwell from Panta Arenas and the brig Helena from Gautemala, both with cargoes of coffee.

Produce Market.

Flour—Apart from the usual jobbing trade, there is nothing to report. Imperial Oregon extra finds ready sale in small lots at $7 25; we quote city mills, superfine, $6 62½@7; extra, $7 87½@8 25.

Wheat—500 sacks choice sold yesterday at $2 60; the market to-day is hardly so firm, and it would be difficult to place any considerable lot above $2 60.

Barley—1,300 sacks brewing sold from the wharf yesterday at $1 97½. The nominal range of the market is $1 90@2. It is said that new crop is selling at Sacramento at $1 75.

Oats—Sales include 360 sacks fair at $2 25; 100 sacks good, $2 40; 200 sacks Oregon, $2 25; 150 sacks do., $2 25.

The Government yesterday accepted a bid for 200,000 lbs. Oregon extra family flour in half sacks at $3 40 @ 100 lbs.

Shipping.

Senator Fowler on Impeachment.

Senator Fowler of Tennessee is one of the Senators who voted for the acquittal of the President. The following concerning him will be read with interest:

WASHINGTON, May 17.

This morning the following is published regarding the course Senator Fowler took in January last in urging impeachment on the meeting of the Union Congressional Committee:

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 10.

A meeting of the Union Congressional Committee was held at the house of its Chairman, Senator Morgan, this evening. Present—Senators Morgan, Morrill, Thayer, Chandler, Ferry, Corbett and Fowler; Representatives Schenck, Ames, Kelly, Broomall, Ela, Coburn, Hopkins, Hubbard, Windom and Clarke, Senator Morgan in the chair, Thomas L. Tullock, Secretary. Gen. Schenck presented a report from the Executive Committee, which was adopted. Interesting and earnest remarks were made by General Schenck, Senators Corbett, Chandler, Thayer, Fowler, Ferry and Morrill; and Representatives Ela, Kelly, Windom and Hopkins. In the course of his remarks Senator Fowler, of Tennessee, without warrant of the President, by an allusion to Mr. Johnson by any of the speakers who had preceded him, introduced the question of his impeachment, and entered into an argument to demonstrate its necessity, and to show the responsibility of Congress for the sufferings of the Southern Union men, and the murder of so many of them, which, he said, would be continued as long as we failed to impeach and remove him. He opened this topic by saying that some of the gentlemen present had differed with him in their estimate of Mr. Johnson, and the judgment of his purposes; but that experience had probably satisfied them that he had been right. He said he had known him long and well, and let defects of his character be what they may, he was plausible and unrelenting in his purpose; had extraordinary power for evil; that no relief could be given to Union men of the South, till he should be impeached and removed. It was very well to send speakers and organizers among them, and to enlighten them on questions of the day, by distributing our publications among them; but that our labors would be ineffectual while Mr. Johnson continued to administer the laws; that he would, as President, be able to overthrow such good as might be established, and that so long as we should fail to do our duty and impeach and remove him from office we would be responsible for the sufferings and blood of the Union men of Tennessee and the unreconstructed States.

The foregoing embraces an extract from the minutes of the committee, and the resolution and tenor of phraseology of remarks of Senator Fowler at meeting of tenth of January, nor was their tenor exceptional, as in his intercourse with me he had frequently expressed views on me as well as on others in my presence. WM. D. KELLEY.

We who were present also at the meeting referred to above concur with Judge Kelley in his account of what was said, and agreed there by Senator Fowler. Senator Fowler's idea distinctly set forth and impressed on us was that we could expect no restoration of peace to the country or enforcement of the laws, without the impeachment and removal of Andrew Johnson from the Presidency.

"Conservative" Indignation.

The following is from the Virginia (Nevada) Enterprise:

We are in receipt of those occasional letters of advice regarding the conduct of a newspaper with which every journalist is familiar. Ordinarily we pay no attention to communications of this character, but the one in hand is so cool and characteristic that we are disposed to share its enjoyment with our readers. The writer—unintentionally, no doubt—omitted hi signature; but what's in a name when the article itself smells so sweet? Says our anonymous adviser:

> As a yearley subscriber, I take the liberty o saying to you, as a publick jurnlest that you ought to moderate your edditorial remarks in regard to politicks You are too Black to soot the bulk of the people You also fill up your paper with a lot of nocence that every senceable Man is sick of for the past year about Nasby such misebeal trash is not fit for any paper that has any pretencions to respectabelity we want information not bosh be more concervitive and not worship the Negro and the China Man as you seem to do you stated in your paper that a band of canadians and Irash men run the Chinea off from chopping Wood such was not the case as you ought to know there was many yanks amongst the out laws even Black republicans why not give them credit one word more in regard to politicks you can drum up all your forces this fall and we will discount youse or any party that loves a Negro or a China Man better than a forner.

With the respect due to a "yearly subscriber," we beg to assure our correspondent that he must have misread the Enterprise, or misapprehended its meaning, if he conceives that it regards "a negro or a Chinaman as better than a forner." We are not particularly enamored of the negro and the Chinamen, and our special advocacy of their rights has simply been engendered by their special proscription. Similar proscription of any other native or foreign class or race would enlist our efforts with the same zeal in its behalf. It is not races or classes that appeal to our sympathy and sense of justice, but the distinction which is made against them. If to protest against unjust proscription of whatever kind, is to be radical—if to raise our voice in behalf of any class or race that may be proscribed, is to be black—and if such a course in a journal is distasteful and unsatisfactory to a "yearly subscriber"—we advise him not to renew his subscription when it expires, as the Enterprise will not be likely to suit him better in the future than in the past.

In nominating Grant for President, the Convention at Chicago to-day simply did what was expected of them by the great bulk of the nation, in other words simply carried out the will of the people. No man in the nation is so well fitted to quiet the turbulence of the times. He is every inch a patriot. He knows no North, no South, no East, no West—naught but his whole country. He is to-day the earnest, devoted friend of the South. In his approaches to them he steadily carries the olive branch. He is not only the best but the most potential friend the South has in the nation, and yet he is as true to the interests of the North as the magnet to the pole. Hence he combines the elements of a great pacificator, such as the country is sorely in need of. The conservative element has worked the nomination of Grant, and it will not be disappointed in him as President. As we go to press the telegraph announces the nomination of Colfax for Vice President. —Salt Lake Reporter, May 21st.

The English have a deep seated repugnance to Ireland. Referring to it, the London Times remarks:

"The English are adventurous enough. They will suddenly transport themselves and their families and live under eternal snows or eternal suns, in unknown solitudes, or among savages, robbers, or civilized beings still more hateful. But to Ireland they will not go. They will not buy land and and settle there. They will hardly make a tour there. They will go a thousand miles for scenery by no means finer that that of the Western and Southern coast of Ireland. They will buy estates in England to pay one and a half per cent., but not in Ireland to pay five or six per cent. Nor is it the bullet or the bludgeon, the tenant or the priest they are most afraid of. It is a state of society without the bond of social confidence and national union that they recoil from."

The Attempted Assassination of Prince Alfred.

Late Australasian papers are almost wholly taken up with accounts of the attempted assassination of Prince Alfred at a picnic near Sydney, on the 12th March. We extract the following from the New York Herald's correspondence:

The spot selected for the picnic was one of the most charming and lovely to be found in any part of Sydney Harbor, and every preparation had been made to insure the enjoyment of the pleasure-seekers.

About half past one the Prince arrived in a special steamer, and the people collected at the wharf and cheered lustily, while the Prince smiled and bowed his thanks. Immediately upon landing he was conducted to the luncheon tent, and in company with the Governor of the colony, Lady Belmore and several others, partook of refreshment.

Leaving the tent, the Prince led Lady Belmore to a special pavilion which had been erected for the use of the elite of the party, and then sauntered away with Sir William Manning, [illegible] ident of Sydney, to enjoy a walk [illegible] the grounds. As he went along he met a [illegible] named Allen, with whom he [illegible] and chatted for a few moments, and then handed an envelope to Sir William Manning, saying that it contained a donation to the Sailors' Home.

Scarcely had he finished speaking when a man whose name is now known to be O'Farrell, was observed to run quickly across to where he was standing and fire with a revolver at the Prince, who immediately fell forward, [illegible] my God, I am shot; my back is [illegible]

Sir William Manning turned hastily [illegible] hearing the report of the revolver, [illegible] that the man who had just [illegible] weapon towards him (Sir W. Manning), he [illegible] to get out of the line of fire and in [illegible] This time, however, the [illegible] while O'Farrell was again [illegible] the Prince, a gentleman named Vial, who had witnessed the whole occurrence, ran up and pinioned his arms to his body, thereby [illegible] the direction of the weapon, which, however, exploded, the bullet hitting a Mr. Thorne in [illegible]

Meanwhile, the report of the revolver had drawn together the picnickers from all [illegible] grounds, and a scene of [illegible] ensued which no words can [illegible]

O'Farrell struggled hard to get free [illegible] Vial, swearing fiercely and loudly, and in the [illegible] identity of the combatants [illegible] fused. When, therefore, the bystanders [illegible] now discovered that the Prince had been shot, rushed in and separated the men, they were [illegible] loss as to which of them was the [illegible] while the majority of the crowd [illegible] right man, Mr. Vial was also [illegible] very severely maltreated. After a while the police succeeded in getting hold of O'Farrell [illegible] before he had been terribly and [illegible] The people called savagely out, "kill him!" "hang him!" "lynch him!" and fought desperately with the police to [illegible] of his body, the poor wretch [illegible] and blows for every yard the [illegible] down to the wharf. The police, [illegible] succeeded in getting to the [illegible] determined effort was made by the mob, who had been yet further infuriated by a [illegible] made by one of the [illegible] not to let "the [illegible]" leave the [illegible] But the police were again victorious, and O'Farrell, bleeding and unconscious [illegible] he had received, was [illegible] lodged in Darlinghurst jail. [illegible]

Meanwhile the Prince had been raised from the ground and conveyed to his private [illegible] evidently in great pain, and [illegible] the gentlemen who were bearing [illegible] carry him more slowly and [illegible] very weak from the loss of blood, he did not become unconscious, and noticing that the [illegible] crowded around the tent, he [illegible] to assure them that "he was not [illegible] would be better presently."

An examination of his wound, however, [illegible] it to be a very [illegible] one, indeed, [illegible] strange that the bullet, entering [illegible] inch or two to the right of the spine, [illegible] middle of the back, did not produce [illegible] or, at any rate, more [illegible] done. In describing the sensation he felt when the bullet struck him, the Prince said it [illegible] to him as if he were lifted [illegible]

Towards evening he was [illegible] taken by water to Sydney, where [illegible] waiting to convey him to Government House. The best medical aid in the city was [illegible] obtained, and although for [illegible] sicians were unable to extract the ball, [illegible] prince was unable to lie down lest it [illegible] his position, no unfavorable [illegible] there was no appearance of [illegible] was naturally the chief danger, [illegible] necessary operation was [illegible] ed. It has now been officially announced [illegible] is out of danger, and for the past few days he has been out through the streets in a carriage, guarded by a strong escort. [illegible] robust health, and a strong [illegible] vor, it is singular that he has [illegible] as he has.

It is almost impossible to [illegible] ment in Sydney the night of the [illegible] sination. The cafes and [illegible] with people, whose sole topic [illegible] seemed to be the disaster to the [illegible] atre and all other places of [illegible] closed; the evening papers [illegible] and immense crowds gathered round the [illegible] giving an official account of the [illegible] prince, that were posted up in various [illegible] of the city.

Arrangements were made for all [illegible] ings to express the indignation felt by the [illegible] classes of the community. The first one that came off was a general meeting of the [illegible] Sydney the following day at the Pavilion, [illegible] porary building, accommodating about [illegible] sand people. The place was of course [illegible] Since that there has been [illegible] scription, of Catholics and Protestants, [illegible] Odd Fellows, Foresters; of native [illegible] and colonists; of American, Hungarian, Polish, French, Welsh, Swedish, Chinese, Spanish and Italian residents, and innumerable others besides.

made no secret of his intention to have assassinated the prince. While in charge of the police he said to one member of the force, "I have made a mess of it, and all for no good." To another, "I don't care for death; I am sorry I [illegible] my aim—I made a mess of it," and to another, "I am a Fenian—God save Ireland." He also said; "I have done my duty, and can die for my country." He then added, "It can't be helped now; I have made a mess of it." The prisoner, Henry James O'Farrell, is a fair [illegible] man, about five feet eleven in height, and apparently about thirty-five years of age. He has a slight beard and moustache, and is [illegible] hair. He is perfectly self-possessed, is a man of good education, and in manner is not unpleasing. He was dressed in a dark coat and trousers and white waistcoat. His clothes were torn to ribbons by the excited crowd, and he received many severe bruises, his eyes being blackened, his nose swelled very much, and his lips puffed out like those of a negro. According to his own statement he is a native of Dublin, but left Ireland at a very early age. He has been in many countries, has [illegible] a considerable time on the European continent and in America, lived in Victoria the last five or six years, and about three or four months ago came from Victoria to Sydney, where he has been a lodger in a public house.

The people of Abyssinia are great Scripture readers. Each family possesses over ten copies of the Bible, printed or written in the Arabic language. For the purpose of testing their knowledge of holy writ, your correspondent, urged by the interpreter, Captain Speedy, the [illegible] of Theodorus' army, propounded a few questions, such as "Who was the first hunter?" "What was David's father?" "What was the name of the man in whose fields Ruth gleaned?" "How many days was Noah in the ark?" All of which questions were answered correctly by a young fellow not over twenty years of age, who, we found out afterward, was also an excellent writer. The overland mail brings us the report of the arguments made in the Senate in secret session for and against the conviction of the President. The speeches of Senators Grimes and Trumbull cover all the points made by the Republican Senators who voted against conviction

Senator Grimes took the ground that the tenure-of-office act did not apply to the Secretary of War He quoted from the first section, as follows.

> "Every person holding any civil office to which he has been appointed by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, and every person who shall hereafter be appointed to any such office, and shall become duly qualified to act therein, is and shall be entitled to hold such office until a successor shall have been in a like manner appointed and duly qualified, except as otherwise herein provided."

Then comes what is otherwise provided

> "Provided, That the Secretaries of State, of the Treasury, of War, of the Navy, and of the Interior, the Postmaster General and the Attorney General shall hold their offices respectively for and during the term of the President by whom they may have been appointed, and for one month thereafter, subject to removal by and with the advice and consent of the Senate"

The conclusion he deduced from the law itself and from the known facts of the case, was, that as Secretary Stanton was appointed by Mr. Lincoln and not by Mr. Johnson, his case did not come within the tenure-of-office act, and therefore the President had a right to remove him, the same as if the law had never been enacted. He declared that he should not deny the constitutionality of the law. That question was not necessarily in the case.

All this might be very well had not Mr Grimes declared the opposite doctrine in regard to the President's right to remove the Secretary, and invited the House of Representatives to present articles of impeachment, by voting with every other Republican Senator, on the 21st of February, for the following resolution:

> "Resolved by the Senate of the United States, That under the constitution and laws of the United States the President has no power to remove the Secretary of War and designate any other officer to perform the duties of that office ad interim

Here is what the Senator says in justification of this action:

> "The hasty and inconsiderate action of the Senate on the 21st of February, may have been, and probably was, a sufficient justification for the action of the House of Representatives, as the grand inquest of the nation, in presenting their articles of impeachment, but it furnishes no reason or apology to us for acting otherwise than under the responsibilities of our judicial oath, since [illegible]

Is it possible to conceive of a greater humiliation on the part of a Senator of the United States than this confession involves? He is obliged to say that his former action was "hasty and inconsiderate," and that it was "a justification of the House in presenting their articles of impeachment"; yet as the action of himself and brother Senators was "inconsiderate," they were under the necessity of abandoning the ground taken and declaring that they were wrong and the President right! That will do for Mr. Senator Grimes. The people of Iowa will claim their right to have in this high office a man who will not so utterly stultify himself and bring disgrace upon their State and the position he fills.

Mr. Trumbull's argument was very similar to that of Mr. Grimes. He held that the tenure-of-office act was inapplicable to the Secretary of War. He said:

> "Then it seems inevitable from the terms of the tenure of office act itself, that the President's right to remove Stanton, the Secretary of War appointed by his predecessor, is not affected by it, and that, having the authority to remove that officer under the act of 1795, he did not violate either the Constitution or any statute in issuing the order for that purpose.

Yet Mr. Trumbull with all his Republican brethren in the Senate did declare by resolution on the 21st February, that the President in ordering the removal, had violated the Constitution and laws of the United States, and the President immediately sent a message to the Senate protesting against the charge. Senator Trumbull undertakes to exculpate himself in this lame manner:

> "Importance is sought to be given to the passage by the Senate of this resolution, as if Senators sitting as a Court on the trial of the President for high crimes and misdemeanors would feel bound or influenced in any degree by a resolution introduced and hastily passed before an adjournment on the very day the orders to Stanton and Thomas were issued. What law does this record show the President to have violated? Is it the tenure of office act? I believe in the constitutionality of that act, and stand ready to punish its violators; but neither the removal of that faithful and fearless officer, Edwin M. Stanton, which I deeply regret, nor the ad interim designation of Lorenzo Thomas, were, as has been shown, forbidden by it.

All persons of candor will place the responsibility of these whole proceedings in impeachment on Senators Trumbull, Grimes, Fessenden and others of their class, where that responsibility belongs. Their "hasty and inconsiderate action," on the 21st February, brought it about. Grimes says plainly and the others say virtually, that this action taken by the Senate invited the action taken by the House,—that the Senate's resolution, which they voted for, was "a sufficient justification" of the House in presenting articles of impeachment. Let these Senators, therefore, be judged in this matter by their own confessions. If the partisans of Johnson want to censure anybody for impeachment, let them be honest and censure those Senators whom they are praising for voting for the President's acquittal. Those Senators may intend to act with the Union party hereafter We hope they do, but they may each and every one be assured that their political career will end with their present term of office With their own hands they have dug their political graves, and their bodies will soon be ready to fill them

The Second Judicial District.

By telegram from Eugene City, received yesterday, (Tuesday) we learn that Col. Kelsay, Union candidate for Judge in the Second District, has carried Coos and Curry counties by 90 majority, giving him a majority in the District of 20 over Mosher, his opponent Those who have been claiming the election of Mosher and exulting over the supposed defeat of Kelsay will now have an opportunity to take it all back. The Colonel will forgive them.

The San Francisco Bulletin says of the Oregon election: "The result is not a disappointment. The success of the Union party was rather hoped for than expected. For two years past the vote has been very close, and a considerable Southern emigration has set in"

The Difference

Those who have money invested in the public securities of Great Britain feel safe in their investment, because there is no party in that country clamoring for repudiation The consequence is that England borrows money at three per cent In this country there are politicians who are always assailing the public credit in one way or another and the result is that our Government is compelled to pay six or seven per cent on its loans. England finds her profit in solvency, while we find our loss in sundry propositions to evade our national obligations England does not think of issuing paper money to the amount of her debt on pretence of paying her debt off and stopping interest, while our own country is blessed with a party which advocates this brilliant stroke of financial policy If we want England's credit would it not be wise to cherish England's horror of repudiation?

Somebody telegraphed to California the day after our election, and the dispatch was published in the San Francisco papers, that "all the county tickets in the State are Democratic, except Marion, which gives a Republican majority of 400" This dispatch would seem to the San Francisco papers very much the reverse of fair if they knew that besides Marion, the Republicans had carried their county tickets wholly or in great part in Washington, Yamhill, Clackamas, Benton, Clatsop, Tillamook, Douglas, Coos and Curry counties, within one of half the number of counties in the State.

A Washington dispatch of May 19th says that Chief Justice Chase has stated that he intended to run as the Democratic candidate for President, provided he could secure a platform which would suit his views, but that if such Democrats as Seymour and Pendleton impressed their extreme views on it, he should then give up any design of working with that party, and run as an independent candidate.

Operations Against the Indians.

The following order is published in the Idaho papers

HEADQUARTERS DISTRICT OF OWYHEE,
Fort Boise, I T, June 3, 1868
General Orders No 5.

A recent summary and effectual chastisement of a band of Snake Indians on the Owyhee river, by a detachment from Company M, 1st Cavalry, and Boise Indian Scouts, stationed at Camp Lyon, deserves special mention.

On the 23d ult, a party of emigrants and a stage were attacked on the Humboldt road between Inskip's and Sheep Ranch. The detachment of company M, 1st Cavalry, stationed at Inskip's, reached the place were the attack was made about fifteen minutes after, and followed the trail until darkness prevented further pursuit.

When the news reached Camp Lyon, the guide Beebe and scouts were absent under general instructions for habitually scouting the country in search of Indians and their trails, returning to Camp Lyon on the 25th ult. Brt. Capt. Harris, 1st Cavalry, commanding, on the 26th ordered a detachment of eight soldiers with Beebe and five Boise Indians to proceed to the vicinity of Inskip's, take the trail and follow it. They struck the trail on the 27th, followed it that day and on the 28th until night, when the scouts reported Indians camped about five miles distant. The detachment moved during the night, and on the morning of the 29th, attacked the camp, killing the entire party, thirty-four in number, as is confirmed by the scalps taken by the Boise Indian scouts.

The promptness of Brt. Capt. Harris in sending the detachment in pursuit, the skill and judgment with which Sergeant Henry Miller, Co. M, 1st Cavalry, and Beebe conducted the scout, as also the bravery and determination with which the attack was made by the soldiers and Boise Indians, is deserving of great praise.

New Mining Camp.

D. J. Schnebley writes as follows to the Walla Walla Statesman

SPOKANE BRIDGE, May 25, 1868.

News has just came here that a new camp has just been struck, some sixty miles north of east from this place, on a tributary of the Pen d'Oreille river. The party who brought out the word were so reticent that no particulars could be gleaned as to the precise locality. Several years ago there was some mining done on the Little Salmon, a tributary of the Pen d'Oreille river, which paid well. I would not be surprised if the new diggings were located on the same stream. I give you the whole story for what it is worth The party who came down for provisions, etc, one of whom I know, Gust Warren, had with them some six or seven animals to load. They would not go to Colville for their supplies for fear that they would be overrun by the people of that valley, hence they came to the Spokane prairie for their "grub," intending to keep the whole affair as secret as possible. If anything further comes to light, I will advise you at the earliest practicable moment.

LATER -Since the foregoing was written, I have learned that the new mines, yet but imperfectly prospected, are below Priest river, a sluggish stream near its mouth, and a tributary of the Pen d'Oreille, coming in on the north side of the latter, and abreast of, or a little below the Callis Spells, and instead of being only 60 miles from this place, is distant about 110 miles the route to them is up the little Spokane river The prospect as Mr Warren informed me, amounted to 30 cts to the pan This is near the mouth of a creek, (name not known) where there is a large bar, from which the prospect was got The party are pushing their way up the stream, in hopes to find coarser gold. The indications, they say, are in every way similar to those of the famous Wild Horse Creek, in the Kootenai mining camp These mines were discovered late last fall, but have been kept a profound secret until the present time Ben Welch, brother of Dan, is one of the discoverers The discoverers are sanguine that they have struck a good thing I am promised a full account of the diggings when they shall have been more fully developed. I will write you again.

Mrs Stanton says in the Revolution that she has "taken care of seven babies, yet has worked in the cause of women twenty years or more. We have addressed our Legislature many times, spoken on education, temperance, slavery, and written many articles for the press When we went to Albany to address the Legislature we took our nurse and babies to the Delavan House, left them safe there in a room, went to the Capitol, found it filled with ladies, and made our speech It takes no longer to speak than listen When we finished, we shook hands all around, and went home to our babies, and the rest of the women to theirs If we were a member of the Legislature we could spend the few hours every day at the Capitol which other women spend in fashionable calls, shopping, gossipping, dining, dressing and idling"

STATE ITEMS.

Oregon is now Democratic, but the Roseburg Ensign tells the reason Missouri is intensely Union

The Eugene City Guard, a Democratic paper, has suspended publication It promises to continue after a while.

A La Grande paper says that the dauntless "Lum" Davis, who last season killed two Indians in Pine Valley at one shot, has taken the war path at the head of the parties collected from Mormon Basin, Clarks Creek, Rye Valley, etc

The Union men of Marion county are organizing for the fall campaign The Waldo Hills Grant Club held a meeting on Friday night, at which many voters were promised for Grant and Colfax that did not go for the Union ticket in the late election

Says the Yreka Journal: "Copperhead reports say Oregon has gone Democratic by one thousand majority We expected to hear of Oregon going Democratic, from the fact that an immense emigration of rebels has been constantly pouring in to Montana, Idaho and Oregon from the South western States on the Atlantic side, for the last two years

The West Side Railroad Company made application to Judge Boise last week for leave to bring an action against the East Side Company in the nature of a quo warranto,—the object being to determine which party is entitled to the corporate name as the "Oregon Central Railroad Company." On affidavit of Mr Mitchell, counsel for the East Side Company, that the same questions are now under consideration by Judge Upton, Judge Boise declined to grant the application

The La Grande Times learns that a new mining camp has been established on the north fork of the north Powder river, at the foot of the mountains on the Daily road, and near Dr Anthony's A ditch, capable of supplying all demands, even for hydraulics will be completed by the first of next month The ground is not claimed to be extra rich, but will pay good wages from the surface down About 10 claims are taken up and there are plenty yet that can be taken There seems to be in this region, almost directly between La Grande and Auburn, a large scope of country that will give hundreds profitable employment The camp mentioned above is about three miles from the camp on Wolf creek, where one hydraulic is already at work

From a letter dated Amelia City, May 29, and published in the Boise Statesman, we take the following: A party of Indians came in Saturday night, 23d inst, and stole right in the town out of the corral where a man was sleeping, nine head of horses Next morning, Sunday, a party of five men started in pursuit, and returned this morning about daylight, having had an encounter with the Indians One man, Jonas Belknap, who had been keeping a butcher shop here, was killed, and a stable keeper of this place named Robert Young was seriously wounded. A surgeon was sent for at Boise City The wounded man is now lying at the military camp on Malheur river Two of the party arrived here this morning about daylight, and when within half a mile of town were again attacked by a party of Indians, but came in unhurt

The Blue Mountain Times (Union County) talks in this way about the election "We carried one precinct in this county (North Powder), in that precinct of 17 votes, we have one majority. We have the assurance of the Commissioners that should we retire to that precinct, they will not change the boundaries and leave us again in a Democratic precinct Well, you of the opposite party feel good—you can't help it. We feel bad, and we can't help that, either. We have something to feel bad about. You've got the election. You've got our lands, tenements, hereditaments, and appurtenances Your'e got our horses, our neat cattle, and swine, our gold and silver, our greenbacks, our county orders, (Democratic currency, worth 40 cents on the dollar), our boots, hats, clothes, in fact you've cleaned us to the bed rock. We've heard your war hoops and thunder, as we groaned in anguish under our blankets" If this isn't a rough state of things, the Times would doubtless thank some one to tell what is the matter.

ELOQUENT EXTRACT —Strange as it may appear, the following is the exordium of a decision in a mining case lately, given by one of the Justices of the Supreme Court of the State of Nevada.

> "As every means which legal learning and subtle ingenuity could suggest have been long since exhausted in this cause, counsel have now, it seems been driven to the necessity of calling the muses from the silver shades of Pindus and Helicon to assist them, and if we may judge from the tragic fervor of the respective arguments, Melpomene at least responded to their invocation, for we find the evidences of her assistance on both sides of this irrepressible case. But unfortunately for the counsel, the law does not affiliate with the tuneful nine, nor accept them as authority in her prosy dominion, but like the companions of Ulysses, stops her ears against their seductive appeals and listens only to logic and unvarnished facts. As faithful servants of this wrinkle browed and heartless prude, the law, we will leave the poetry of the case and direct our attention to what little prose there may be left in it."

Bishop Quintard, of Tennessee, writes a letter to the Southern Churchman, denouncing a ball gotten up in his diocese for the benefit of a church. "Fairs, suppers, lotteries, balls, and such abominations," he says, "outrage the principles of Christianity"

The Late Lamented Rufus Choate

Says of Washington, that "of all his deeds, the noblest was, that he never followed, never led, never acted with a party" This cannot be said in the case of all the distinguished public men of the present age It is very true, however, that

FLYING HIGH.—The Herald of yesterday published the following dispatch as coming from Andrew Johnson to "Mr. Davidson, of the Herald office:"

"To William Davidson—I thank you for the good news. Oregon has done nobly and will stand with the column of States which in the approaching elections will redeem the nation from anarchy and usurpation."
ANDREW JOHNSON.

"Now is the winter of our discontent made glorious summer" and the goose is hanging high. The mighty chief who has been Alderman, Mayor, Governor, Senator and President, has actually writ a message to the [illegible] chief of the city organ, who has been a member of the Colorado legislature and for years an "eminent financial manager"—and the dispatch, with all its adjuncts of distinguished names, has been printed! Hallelujah! The "era of good feeling" has dawned! Solid merit has been recognized and we apples are swimming. Hereafter let no man question the sagacity of Andrew Johnson—he knows his man, he never does a thing without a purpose. Cabinet officers are now swinging round the circle. The times are sadly out of joint. The times need repairing. Financial prospects are gloomy. An "eminent financial manager" is now the greatest public want. That's what the message means. Why not [illegible] this? 'Tis false that dreams are all of baseless fabric. An "humble individual" is at the head of the government—why may not an "eminent financial manager" aspire to be at the head of the Treasury Department? Oregon sustains Johnson—why should not Johnson reward Oregon? He will, he must. He is doing it. He is [illegible] telegraphic messages to her shining lights. This message is genuine, of course it is! The "financial [illegible]" and most of the 399 to whom it has been shown on the streets, know the handwriting; they recognized it instantly! Nobody is "the victim of a practical joke!" Oh, no!! Some men are fools from accidental mischance; these are they who have it thrust upon them. Others make fools of themselves, these are they who achieve it. Others are born natural fools, that sort can't help it."

POSTAL AFFAIRS.—Hon. Quincy A. Brooks has furnished us the following account of changes that have recently been made in this department:

In Idaho—The postoffice at Washington, Idaho county, has been discontinued.

In Oregon—B. B. Bishop has been appointed Postmaster at Umatilla, vice J. H. Koontz, removed. The Post office at Etna, Polk county, has been discontinued. A. [illegible] has been appointed Postmaster at Long Tom, Lane county. Joseph H. Butler has been appointed [illegible] at Umpqua City, Douglass county. John [illegible] has been appointed Postmaster at Siuslaw, Lane county. Miss Charlotte A. Calkins has been appointed Postmistress at Oswego, Clackamas county.

In Washington Territory—The postoffice at Kamilchie, [illegible] county, has been discontinued. A new postoffice has been established at Unity (formerly Pacific City) Pacific county. A. M. Collins has been appointed Postmaster at A[illegible], Mason county. J. M. Shotwell has been appointed Postmaster at Miami Prairie, Thurston county. J. V. Dawson has been appointed Postmaster at Swinomish, Island county. Thomas Carney has been appointed Post[illegible] at Utsalady, Island county. The postoffice at Sh[illegible]wood Mills, Mason county, has been discontinued. [illegible] L. Willey has been appointed Postmaster at Oakland, Mason county.

DIRECT FREIGHTS FROM NEW YORK.—The question of direct ship[illegible] from New York to Portland has been long [illegible], the argument for its advantages being [illegible] on one side, while the practice of shippers has [illegible] constantly on the other side. Nobody pretends to deny that direct trade with the great eastern marts [illegible] to our advantage, and there are but few who do not wonder that our merchants have never [illegible] the policy. Notwithstanding this, when Mr. A. B. Mercer went east something near a year since to take measures to start a line of freighting vessels between New York and Portland, half the people [illegible] him "a visionary," and very few were found to lend him aid or encouragement. He went on, however, and has never relaxed his efforts, till now we learn of his [illegible]. A business man of this city informs us that the first vessel of the line, the bark Sallie Brown, [illegible] New York for Portland direct, on the 7th of May, with a cargo of general merchandise, and that another vessel in the same line was expected to be put on the berth on the 1st of June and to sail as soon as laden. Thus the matter of direct trade seems to be in promising [illegible]. The eventual suc[illegible] of the line will be greatly in the hands of Portland merchants. It strikes us [illegible] consult their own interests and of the State [illegible] will at once enter into its support.

[illegible] RAILROAD.—R. M. Walker, who [illegible] "Civil Engineer," has written a letter to [illegible] of the Walla Walla and Wallula Railroad [illegible] he suggests the expediency of constructing [illegible] with wooden rails. He says: "I take [illegible] as an old citizen of the Territory, feeling [illegible] welfare and that [illegible] to suggest to you, as the President of the [illegible] company, the propriety of looking into the [illegible] of the building a wooden road, as a means of a [illegible] quite as rapid a communication between [illegible] and the river. I am [illegible] of the fact that this style of road has been used in some of the [illegible] with great success, and in many of the [illegible] States during the late civil war, owing to the [illegible] of obtaining iron rails, they were used on an extensive scale for the transportation of men and munitions of war, and general freight, and proved efficient and durable. On the route between Walla Walla [illegible] Wallula; free as it is from all engineering difficulties, [illegible] quite sure that the experiment would be entirely [illegible]"

[illegible] MARKET, SAN FRANCISCO.—Mr. McCraken has furnished us with the following letter, from the firm of [illegible], wool dealers of San Francisco, bearing date, May 30th:

"[illegible] receipts of wool continue large. Stock now in [illegible] over 2,000,000 lbs. The [illegible] freights, coupled with shipments [illegible] flour, has tended to the accumulation of [illegible] of sales for early shipment has [illegible] order of a few of the buyers. The only [illegible] can arrive at from a consideration of the [illegible] of lower rates. Our general market [illegible] has been, for the best, from 17½c to [illegible] sale of [illegible] very nice [illegible]. Inferior parcels almost wholly neglected. [illegible] choice lots from your State, in [illegible]. Shall watch the sales [illegible] and reject as early as reliable [illegible]. From a careful canvass of [illegible] of the [illegible] that two-thirds of [illegible] clip has arrived, and this is [illegible] for a [illegible]."

[illegible] JUDGE.—Proceedings of Tuesday [illegible]

[illegible] v. [illegible] A. Stowbridge, W. Moffatt, et al; [illegible] to restrain defendant from erecting a wall [illegible] by said plaintiff; most of the forenoon [illegible] the hearing arguments of counsel. Logan [illegible] for plaintiff; Stout, Reed & St[illegible] for defendant.

[illegible] Cable vs American Sewing Machine Company; [illegible] sustained by plaintiff for non-[illegible] with the terms of contract; judgment against [illegible]. Hill & Mulkey for plaintiff.

[illegible] vs Max [illegible] and A. Strauss; action [illegible] promissory note; judgment against de[illegible] and for $[illegible] 70 in coin. Hill & [illegible].

[illegible] PAID.—The following are the bills allowed by the County Commissioners at their late session: [illegible]; J. J. Hoffman, fees, $123 56; [illegible] $114 [illegible] bills; Five special [illegible] special Deputy Sheriffs, [illegible] Judges of Election, $6 per day, $234; [illegible] Clerks of Election, $3 per day, $75; pauper [illegible] A. G. Walling, maps and books, [illegible] & Holman, stationery, $83 75; J. Stitzel, [illegible]; Jacob Stitzel, attendance on [illegible] Court, $25; H. C. Coulson, attendance on County [illegible]; Hayden, Smith & Co., lumber, $50 40; [illegible] for tax sale, $160 30; gas and [illegible] W. [illegible], maps, $40; H. Howes, ser[illegible] of court house, $25.

[illegible] ENTERTAINMENT will be given this evening by [illegible] of the "M. E. Church Aid Society" in the [illegible] of the Methodist Church. It is the design to [illegible] social gatherings monthly, the proceeds of [illegible] to assist in the completion of the new [illegible]. Ice cream and strawberries will be served this evening and all are cordially invited to attend. No admission fee will be charged.

[illegible] THEATRE performed last evening to a very [illegible] the various songs, dances and character [illegible] were received as usual with great applause. The [illegible] most altogether new, and its variety in[illegible] the [illegible] of the troupe are in no danger [illegible]. Their next appearance will be [illegible] when a change of programme and new [illegible] be expected.

[illegible] LODGES.—From the "Lodge Directory" [illegible] the Corvallis Gazette, and corrected monthly [illegible] Worthy Secretary, we find that there [illegible] organized lodges of Good Templars [illegible] Victoria and three in Idaho all in [illegible] of the Grand Lodge of Oregon. Since [illegible] of 1866, seven lodges have surrendered [illegible]

[illegible] APPOINTMENTS.—A dispatch was received last [illegible] San Francisco, which indicates that the M. E. [illegible] has selected Rev. Isaac Dillon as [illegible] of the Pacific Christian Advocate, of Portland, and Rev. H. C. Benson as editor of the California [illegible], of San Francisco.

PRIZE CONUNDRUMS.—Mr. McGinley informs us that upon his return from Oregon City, and perhaps on Friday [illegible] day evening, he will offer a valuable prize for the best popular conundrum to be read before the [illegible] the performance. Particulars will be [illegible]

[illegible]—Arrived, yesterday, per steamer [illegible] flour, 2 cases bacon, 72 sacks oats, 18 [illegible] 66 bags wheat. Per steamer Alert, [illegible] 200 sacks feed, 400 qr sacks flour, 2 [illegible] bales sodas, 40 hf bbls dried apples and [illegible]

[illegible] CITY.—McGinley's Concert and Variety Troupe will give a performance at Oregon City this [illegible]. The Oregon City people need not have any fears of being bilked: the troupe is a very superior one [illegible] with any other lately here.

[illegible] FARM PURCHASED.—During the late session of the [illegible] Commissioners, the negotiations for a tract of land for a pauper farm, which have been pending for some time, were concluded. The land was purchased from Mr. [illegible] Coffin, for the sum of $4,000.

SUNDAY SCHOOL FESTIVAL.—The M. E. Sunday School of East Portland will have a strawberry and ice-cream festival at the evening of the 10th inst., the proceeds to be used in the purchase of a Sunday School Library.

DEMOCRATIC CONVENTIONS.—The Democrats of this city are to hold ward meetings this evening to nominate candidates for Councilmen. They will also elect delegates to a city convention to be held to-morrow evening to nominate a candidate for Mayor.

GETTING OUT.—Mr. W. H. Holmes, who received injuries by the premature discharge of a cannon last Saturday evening, was so much improved in condition yesterday, as to be out of his room.

SOCIABLE.—The ladies of the Presbyterian congregation will hold their regular monthly sociable at the basement of the church, this evening. Strawberries and ice cream.

FIRE ALARM.—A very useless alarm of fire was raised yesterday afternoon, [illegible] from the wind [illegible] Mr. [illegible] fire.

REMOVED.—Mr. John H. Miller has lately removed his clock, watch and jewelry establishment to No. 101, Carter's building.

GARDEN TRUCK.—Early garden produce is beginning to come in, in plentiful quantities from the country.

SPLENDID SUMMER HATS.—The Express Hats seem to be more in demand since this fine weather has set in than ever before; also the Norfolk and Long Branch Hats, of which Messrs. [illegible] have just received a new lot.

THE BROADWAY STYLES OF BOYS' HATS received per last steamer, and for sale by J. A. Dow, 101 Front street.

Having used the "GROVER & BAKER SEWING MACHINE" for many years, I take great pleasure in recommending it to the public, as I believe it superior to all others that have come under my notice. MRS. MATTHEW CROOKS.
San Francisco, May 1st, 1867.

TO THOSE IN WANT OF PHOTOGRAPHS, we would say that now is a first-rate time to visit Buchtel's Gallery, where the latest and finest styles may be had. J. H. Montgomery, operator.

SEASONABLE.—Those stylish Summer Suits, direct from New York, and for sale by Wm. Currier & Co., 103 Front street.

ENGLISH STUMP SPEAKING.—John Lea, of London, recently presented himself as a candidate to represent a rural district in Parliament. He would not bribe a voter, but he thus talked to the electors:

"I can assure you that if I am made member for Helston I will not disgrace you. I will lay the telegraph from Penryn to Helston. I am a great advocate of education. I will present five hundred volumes of great variety, as a nucleus for a free library. In point of variety these books cannot be beaten. I can also tell you that I am tenant of forty thousand acres of Dartmoor. Upon that land I intend to go into the goose trade. I am preparing to make a railway on the Mont Cenis principle from Okehampton to Princetown. You will have a railway running, not at sixty miles an hour, but at fifteen. Talk about geese—I will make money out of them if you will let me. I will buy the gasworks, and you shall have gas at no more than three shillings per one thousand cubic feet in future. Helston will have busy quays, its population will be multiplied, and the town will become the metropolis of Cornwall, the "observed of all observers." I know that I am speaking in the presence of a critical audience; but let them who come to scoff remain to excuse or to pray. Speaking of education, I did not allow one of my daughters to learn her alphabet before she was ten years of age. You may think they are great stupids. I have not brought them down; but I will if I win the election, so that I may wed them to Helston. If I do not win, I will bring them down to show how much I have to console me at home."

He was defeated. He promised too much.

Had he been a Copperhead candidate in Oregon he would have been successful. The gudgeons would have bitten at his promises with the utmost eagerness.

A St. Louis paper says: "Mrs. Grace L. Davidson was made happy yesterday, by a decree of divorce from her husband."

HEALTH, the poor man's riches, the rich man's bliss, is found in AYER'S MEDICINES, after a fruitless search among other remedies. A word to the wise is sufficient.

PORTLAND, Oregon, May 29th, 1868.
H. W. RAPPLEYE—Dear Sir: I take pleasure in stating that I regard your Map of Oregon the most accurate that I have seen published, and in fact the only one that gives anything like a correct idea of Eastern Oregon and its surroundings.
I am, sir, very respectfully,

G. VENARD,
CHARTRES COFFEE!
Manufactory Established in June, 1851.
STEAM POWER, NOS. 625 AND 627 FRONT ST.
HAS CONSTANTLY ON HAND GROUND AND ROASTED COFFEE, GREEN COFFEE of the best qualities. CREAM OF TARTAR and SPICES of all sorts.
The undersigned, who has always enjoyed public confidence for the excellent quality of his Coffee, neglects nothing to justify the good name acquired by his productions, the sale of which daily increases. The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise, which commands here, and in the markets of the interior, a relatively higher price, excites the cupidity of some manufacturers, and every day he sees increasing the number of those who, by counterfeit or imitation of his mark, seek to deceive the public, palming upon them their inferior productions for the genuine G. VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE. This fraud can deceive nobody after a trial, but only adds to the favorable opinion of the consumers, the very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters. Nevertheless, buyers should be forewarned, and placed on their guard against this practice.
BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS.
Each package bears the signature of G. VENARD.

HOSTETTER'S
CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS!
A Pure and Powerful Tonic,
Corrective and Alterative, of wonderful efficacy in Diseases of the STOMACH, LIVER AND BOWELS.
PROTECTIVE PROPERTIES.
Prevents Fever and Ague and Billious Remittent Fevers.
Fortifies the System against Miasma and the evil effects of unwholesome water. Invigorates the organs of digestion and the bowels.
Steadies the Nerves and tends to Prolong Life.
REMEDIAL PROPERTIES.
Cures Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Sick and Nervous Headache, General Debility, Nervousness, Depression of Spirits, Constipation, Colic, Intermittent Fevers, Sea Sickness, Cramps and Spasms, and all complaints of either sex arising from Bodily Weakness, whether inherent in the system or PRODUCED BY SPECIAL CAUSES.

NOTHING THAT IS NOT WHOLESOME, GENIAL, and restorative in its nature, enters into the composition of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. This popular preparation contains no mineral of any kind; no deadly botanical element, no fiery excitant; but is a combination of the extracts of rare balsamic herbs and plants, with the purest and mildest of all diffusive stimulants.

The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated, and the appetite restored by this Tonic, and hence it works wonders in cases of Dyspepsia, and in less confirmed forms of Indigestion. Acting as a gentle and painless aperient, as well as upon the liver, it also invariably relieves the Constipation superinduced by irregular action of the digestive and secretive organs.

Persons of feeble habit, liable to Nervous Attacks, Lowness of Spirits, and Fits of Languor, find prompt and permanent relief from the Bitters. The testimony on this point is conclusive, and from both sexes.

As a Genuine Tonic, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS produce effects which must be experienced or witnessed before they can be fully appreciated. In cases of Constitutional Weakness, Premature Decay, and Debility and Decrepitude arising from old age, it exercises the electric influence. In the convalescent stages of all diseases it operates as a delightful invigorant. When the powers of nature are relaxed, it operates to re-enforce and re-establish them.

Last, but not least, it is the only safe stimulant, being manufactured from sound and innocuous materials, and entirely free from the acrid elements present more or less in all the ordinary tonics and stomachics of the day.

Washington.

[From the Chicago Tribune.]

THE PRESENT TEMPER OF CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 18.

Both Houses are well tired out over the impeachment struggle, and, while business has been going on in an informal manner to-day, very little interest has been taken in it by any one. There was barely a quorum in the House on several votes, and once business had to be suspended to begin a call of the House to secure one. Quite a number of Senators are already gone, and other members of both branches expect to leave to-night. The prevailing temper of Congress is shown by the fact that nearly every step of the day's proceedings brought on allusions to impeachment.

ADMISSION OF ARKANSAS.

When the question to take up the Arkansas bill came up, quite a sharp debate arose. Mr. Henderson argued for prompt action, taking the position that the great disorganization of society there was due to the fact that these States were still out of the Union.

Mr. Sumner retorted, with great warmth, by charging that the real reason was found in the fact that Andrew Johnson was still President of the United States.

INVESTIGATION OF MISSOURI MEMBERS.

In the House, one of the first matters presented was a resolution to investigate the conduct of the Missouri delegation in attempting to coerce Senator Henderson. This time the resolution came from the Republican side, being presented by Mr. Eggleston, of Ohio. Since the Democrats had charged in the House last week that the delegation had acted in an improper manner, the members from Missouri insisted that an inquiry should be made and it was in accordance with their strongly expressed wish that the resolution was offered and passed. The delegation had prepared a full review of the case in the form of a letter to Henderson, but concluded to withhold it, and bring out all the facts in the motion before the Select Committee.

MR. INGERSOLL, OF ILLINOIS,

took the floor a little later, armed with a couple of newspaper paragraphs, which he proceeded to correct. He explained that he was not following Senator Trumbull in the matter of impeachment; that he had done no more than three other members of his delegation, in [illegible] to sign a letter asking him to withhold his vote if he could not give it for conviction. He further declared that he had voted for the resolution of impeachment because he thought they had a good prima facie case, and had voted for the articles presented by the Managers, because he thought them well [illegible], and he still held to these views. He [illegible] by informing the Managers that they [illegible] on his servant, his cook, and [illegible], and they would not find [illegible] different from what he had said.

MR. [illegible] ON HIS FEET AGAIN.

On a motion of Mr. Stevens to ask the Senate to send a certified copy of the last two days of the trial to the House, a stormy time set in. No one could fathom the reason for this request. Mr. Ross, of Illinois, asked Mr. Stevens if he thought Senators should perjure themselves in order to convict Andrew Johnson. Mr. Stevens replied that he was inclined to think it wouldn't hurt them much. This brought out Woodward, of Pennsylvania, who characterized the attempt to influence Senators as indecent, and went on for several minutes in general denunciation.

Mr. Schenck got a copy of the Globe, and turning to a speech made by Woodward a few months ago, said the charges he had just made came with bad grace from a man who had declared Congress a fragmentary body, that the House had no power to impeach or the Senate to try, and that if he was to advise the President with the army and navy at his [illegible] he would soon make an end of impeachment. Mr. Schenck then went on in a very bitter [illegible], and said he had at the time [illegible] a resolution of expulsion, but had been [illegible] turned from his purpose. Mr. [illegible], of Illinois, made a point of order, which the Speaker sustained, that in reality [illegible] Woodward from replying and before he could do so, the House adjourned.

There was also quite a scene over the report of the Managers to compel the attendance of Chas. Woolley, of Cincinnati, as witness. He had refused to respond, and the House was asked to order an arrest. After a time information was received that Woolley, after going as far as Baltimore, had returned, and [illegible].

THE SICK SENATORS.

The [illegible] who were so ill last week are now all in a fair way of recovery. Messrs. Nye, Morton and Conkling appeared in their seats to-day and gave their usual attention to business, though Mr. Morton looked feeble and [illegible]. Mr. Howard seems to have [illegible] to the Senate on Saturday [illegible] for him. Since then he has been rapidly [illegible]. He sat up several hours to-day, and if he has no relapse will soon be able to resume his Senatorial duties. Mr. [illegible] apparently worse for a time after returning to his house on Saturday from the Senate, but had a good night's rest, and to-day is quite perceptibly improving. He begins to use his half paralyzed leg a little, and [illegible] his arm enough to sign his name. Entire rest from all exciting labors is enjoined on him, and he will leave the city as soon as he is able to travel. Indefinite leave of absence was [illegible] him to-day, and it is doubtful if he [illegible] here this session, unless it shall be [illegible].

THE [illegible] CONVENTION.

[illegible] here in all political circles [illegible] the Chicago Convention, and [illegible] that city have been sought with [illegible]. Colfax received one from a prominent New York delegate, saying he had the [illegible] for the Vice Presidency. But on the [illegible] a Senator received one to the [illegible] Wade had the best show. A good [illegible] to hope, and others appear to [illegible] the excitement at the defeat of impeachment will secure the nomination for Wade. The friends of Wilson believe that he will have a strong candidate, if the [illegible] from the Southern States are admitted. Many telegrams have been sent from [illegible] to-day by leading impeachment men, [illegible] that Fessenden, Trumbull, Grimes, Henderson, Ross, Fowler and Van Winkle be read out of the party, and several taking the ground that such a course is not expedient, and would accomplish no good.

SENATOR TRUMBULL.

It is due to Senator Trumbull to say that many of the reports in circulation concerning him are entirely unfounded. He declares he has had no communication with Mr. Johnson either verbally or in writing, since November last; that he has had no conversation with the Chief Justice regarding questions whether Johnson should be convicted or acquitted; that he has had nothing to do with any [illegible] to inaugurate a new party.

THE IMPEACHMENT VERDICT.

The Managers have been busy throughout the day in prosecuting the investigation concerning the influences used in securing the acquittal of Mr. Johnson. The witnesses summoned were Perry Fuller, and and one of Jim Lane's [illegible] friends in the Indian trade, Dan. Voorhees, Tom Ewing, Jr., and Charles Woolley of Cincinnati. The latter refused to come, but, it is said, has changed his mind. The Managers are very reticent as to the evidence taken.

THE FINAL ADJOURNMENT.

Various members of the House and Senate are beginning to talk about adjournment. It has been hoped by most that it could be reached by the 4th of July, but the manner in which the impeachment trial is protracted shows that the end of the session will not be reached until sometime after that date. Mr. Edmunds intimated in the Senate, this afternoon, that grave public considerations might require a session the greater part of the summer and fall.

POOR PIERCE.

The Intelligencer this morning prints a letter from ex-President Pierce upon the coming nomination of the Democratic party. He speaks of Pendleton, Seymour, Hendricks, Doolittle and Hancock in the highest terms, and in the order named, and continues as follows regarding them: "If it be not singular, it is at least very fortunate that such gentlemen as you name should be the five citizens toward whom the entire mind of the country is now turned and apparently concentrated. With either of these patriotic citizens at the head of national affairs, I feel a perfect assurance that everything would be done that can be done to arrest the surge of constitution-defying Radicalism, and to restore fraternity and peace, unity and prosperity to the Republic."

Proposed Change in Johnson's Policy.

[From the Chicago Tribune, May 18.]

The intelligence from Washington, to the effect that Andrew Johnson proposes to reconstruct his Cabinet, and withdraw all opposition to the reconstruction measures and policy of Congress if true, is only important to the extent that it promises an end to Executive interference with Congress. Had there been no such opposition by Johnson and his Cabinet to the action of Congress, the Southern States would have all been restored long ago, with the assent of all classes of the people. If this story of a change of front on the reconstruction policy, be really true, the country will accept such a result for all it is worth as a measure of practical peace and restoration, but if Andrew Johnson expects the country to accept it as an atonement of his past crimes, or in satisfaction for the wrongs he has done the people, he will find that his effort is entirely too late, and that, do what he may, the popular loathing of him, will remain the same.

There can be no Republican who does not look forward anxiously to the day when the whole number of States will be in union and harmony again, and when the rebel States will have put on new garments and be represented in both branches of Congress as of old. There is no Republican who desires the civil government to be subordinate to the military an hour beyond the imperative necessity which demands it. We will all look forward to the day when the civil authority shall be supreme in Alabama as it is in Illinois, and as respected in Louisiana as it is in Wisconsin. If it be true that Andrew Johnson comes forth from the ordeal of impeachment with a purpose to dismiss this fossilized and sycophantic Cabinet, and replace them with patriots and men of enlarged practical views—if to this change of men he proposes to add the far more important change of policy, and hereafter aid and facilitate that policy of reconstruction which he has so long and obstinately postponed, embarrassed, and partially defeated, the country will rejoice at the substantial benefit, but will not think the great unconvicted any less infamous.

THE MAINE ELECTION IN SEPTEMBER—IMPORTATION OF DEMOCRATIC VOTERS.—The New York correspondent of the Charleston (S. C.) Constitution says:

The importance which politicians attach to the first gun of a campaign, as they call it, and its effect upon subsequent elections is but demonstrated just now by the great efforts already being made at this early day by the Democrats to carry the elections in the State of Maine in September. They are already at work here in New York and other leading States, furnishing money, documents, &c., to pull down the Republican majority in that State, and if they succeed in making a breach there, even without creating a thorough revolution, the Democrats are of the opinion that it will have a great effect upon the Ohio and Pennsylvania elections, which always forestall the result of November. Maine is to-day considered the first battle field. The ship-building there has great influence with the people, and that interest sides mainly with the Democratic party. Quite a number of New York workmen, all Democrats, left this port several months ago, as New York, with its immense cost of living, and of all necessaries of life, is, just now, not a very profitable place to build ships, for which there is no immediate demand. These men, hundreds of them, have gone to Maine, and the Democratic vote there in September next will show the effect of this migration.

In regard to the Douglas monument the Chicago Journal says that, with the completion of the tomb, which forms the base of the proposed monument, the funds of the Monument Association are exhausted. The sum of $50,000 additional will be required to complete the monument according to the original plan, including the column of white marble, some forty-two feet in height. But this may be dispensed with, and still an elegant and appropriate monument secured, by completing the pedestal after Mr. Volk's design, placing the four symbolic marble figures in the positions intended for them, and the statue of Douglas on a slightly elevated pedestal in the centre.

During the war with Russia in 1770, the Polish Cossacks buried valuable treasure on an estate in Kherson, by the Black Sea. The money was the property of M. Kuchowski. It has been just found, after a long search. It consisted of a large jar full of gold and silver coins, valued at 400,000 francs.

A woman soldier, aged about thirty five years, was in Hannibal, Mo., a few days since endeavoring to raise money to assist her to get to her home at St. Paul's, Minn. She served through the war in the Thirteenth Missouri Cavalry, and was in the battle of Murfreesboro.

In the First Ward of Providence, R. I., at the municipal election Stillman White, Stephen White and Ebenezer B. White, all Republicans, were candidates for the Common Council. This may be regarded as a "white man's ticket."

A THRILLING INCIDENT

In the mission life of Mrs. Ingalls, in Burmah, is well told in the "Baptist Messenger," relating how she was sent for to visit one of the Budhist high priests, who had been nearly killed; and how, while in the most holy place in their temple, where none but the priests had ever before been admitted, she was permitted unrebuked to use for him the sacred vessels, which none but the high priest dare touch, and to even overturn and sit on one of their gods to rest; all through the magic influence of the Pain Killer, called by them the "God medicine," so successfully had she used it in curing their many diseases, some of them considered heretofore fatal in that climate, among which were cholera, liver complaint, dyspepsia, the bites of venomous reptiles, &c. This speaks volumes for the Pain Killer.—London Times.

Rev. J. E. Clough, Missionary at Ongole, Southern India, writes:—"We esteem your Pain Killer very highly for scorpion stings, cholera, &c., and cannot very well get along without it."

Rev. I. D. Colburn, Missionary at Tavoy, Burmah, writes, "I shall be happy to assist in extending a knowledge of a remedy so speedy and effectual." m1d&w1m

PACIFIC TURBINE WATER WHEEL.

THESE WHEELS EXCEL ANY OTHER WHEEL in use, and are no infringement on the Leffel American Turbine, but excel it in every particular.

CAUTION.

To all whom it may concern: One A. Myers is publishing and circulating a statement that my wheel is an infringement on the Leffel wheel, and he will "prosecute said infringement to the utmost extent of the Law." His statements are not worth a denial. His game is "Bluff," which, if he would only take the case to Court, would soon be played out. Don't believe him!

I would be glad to get a case into the United States Court and get a decision. That would forever stop the mouth of Myers and his misrepresentations. The legal opinions of more reputable lawyers than Dodge & Munn and A. Myers have pronounced my patents no infringement on the American Turbine. H. W. SHIPLEY.

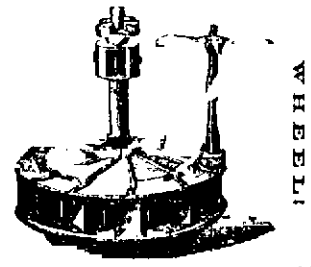
LEFFEL'S
AMERICAN DOUBLE TURBINE

WATER



WHEEL.

THESE WHEELS, UNEQUALLED AND UNRIVALLED in the United States or the world, have been fully tested on this coast, many being in use at this date, driving all kinds of machinery, Saw Mills, Flour Mills, Quartz Mills, Woolen Factories, &c., &c.

CAUTION.

To all whom it may concern: I hereby give notice that the so-called "Shipley's Pacific Turbine Water Wheel" is a direct infringement and copy of the "James Leffel's American Double Turbine Water Wheel," and its manufacture and use is hereby prohibited. Any person or persons making, using, constructing or vending said Water Wheels make themselves liable to heavy damages and penalties. Parties interested will take notice, for I shall prosecute said infringements to the utmost extent of the law.

That all may know I mean what I say, and am not playing "bluff," I give the following extract from a legal opinion on this subject from one of the most eminent Patent Attorneys in the United States.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 17, 1868.

"MR. A. MYERS—In accordance with your request, we have examined the patents of Shipley on Water Wheels, and are clearly of the opinion that they both infringe the Leffel's patents. In both of Shipley's Wheels he uses the upper and lower tiers of buckets precisely as Leffel does, and in this he clearly infringes. The fact that Shipley has applied another series of buckets in addition as those used by Leffel, does not relieve him from the consequences of infringement at all. He has no right to use those two tier of buckets, whether alone or with a third, or any other number of tiers added. It is a clear infringement. Respectfully yours,
DODGE & MUNN.

I hereby give notice that I will prosecute every infringement on our Patents, whether it is the maker, user, buyer or seller. Every infringement, whether our claims are used in whole or in part, will be prosecuted.
A. MYERS.

Medical.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE.
NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES
Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,

616 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies—see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private disease his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practised by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, feted breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay to obtain immediate relief.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use, for Ten Dollars, sent in registered letter or through Wells, Fargo & Co.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders, who, with bogus sworn-to certificates, dupe the unwary. Some of the self-styled doctors, whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places, are tradesmen, and became too lazy to work at their trades. Some are tinsmiths, shoemakers, newspaper carriers, intelligence office keepers, etc. Look over the San Francisco Directory, and you will not find their Medical Institutes in it, but you will find their former occupations in it. Look at the Directory for 1862 and 1863. The only way to avoid imposition is to make enquiry—it will cost you nothing, and may save you many regrets; for, as advertising physicians, in eight cases out of ten, are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr. Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles, certificates, pretended patient's letters, etc. Dr. Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his office of his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure.

Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 616 Kearney street, corner Commercial, San Francisco. Post Office Box 252.

REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 252 ON THE LETTER.

Consultations FREE.

Correspondents will please inform DR. GIBBON that they read his advertisement in the Daily Oregonian.

DR. J. C. YOUNG,
Medical and Surgical
INSTITUTE.

- CONSULTATION, IN ALL CASES, FREE.
- CURES GUARANTEED, OR NO PAY REQUIRED.
- IN ALL CASES WHERE CONFIDENCE IS REQUIRED THE UTMOST SECRESY MAINTAINED.

The above rules, established by Dr. J. C. Young in 1850, and which have done so much to secure the reputation of this Institute, are still adhered to, affording those in need of medical aid, the certainty of cure and the utmost confidence.

There is nothing of so great importance to the sick as to know where to find a physician whose skill and humanity give assurance of proper and delicate treatment. The Doctor would respectfully call the attention of those of both sexes who are suffering or [illegible] to the invariable success that has marked the career of the Institute in the seventeen years of its existence.

It is unnecessary in this connection to enumerate all the complaints treated at the Institute, but the Doctor feels it his duty to call especial attention to that terrible scourge, SEMINAL WEAKNESS, That is sapping with its insidiousness the very life of its victims; in the treatment and cure of which the Institute has earned so enviable a reputation.
